In 1909 Kurimoto, Ltd. began operations as manufacturer of cast iron pipes for water and gas mains. With determination and foresight, the company soon began to diversify into other fields, serving the industrial sector in a multitude of ways. The major divisions of Kurimoto now provide ductile iron pipes, steel structures, plant equipment and engineering services, valves, and construction materials. Involvement with and commitment to large-scale projects has enabled Kurimoto to expand its areas of expertise, be it in land development, industrial modernization, or urban renewal and construction. 14 factories located throughout Japan comprise the company’s industrial base which, together with 29 subsidiary companies, make up the Kurimoto group employing about 3,000 people. Today, Kurimoto plays a vital role in supplying basic industrial products, machines, and services domestically and abroad.

Notes: The U.S. dollar amounts are calculated at the exchange rate of ¥105.69 to $1, the rate prevailing on March 31, 2004.
We have now finalized the settlement of our accounts for the 108th term, and would like to report a review of the period accompanied by business outlines.

During the period under review, the Japanese economy showed signs of recovery due to an increase in exports and capital investment. However, personal consumption has remained sluggish owing to the severe situations surrounding employment and income. Domestic demand has also failed to pick up completely for various reasons, such as a decline in public investment. The condition of these circumstances remains serious and economic recovery still appears to be on hold.

Under such circumstances, we have committed ourselves to improving and strengthening our management structure by employing several measures for business recovery, such as increasing productivity and reducing costs in order to recapture orders, make sales, and also raise profit yields.

Concerning orders, the market environment continued to be very problematic owing to a reduction in the public works budget and other issues. Despite such a situation, orders increased in the Steel Structure Division and the area related to industrial machinery in the Plant Engineering and Machinery Division. However, the area related to environmental machinery in the Plant Engineering and Machinery Division and the area involved with private sector demands in the Construction Materials Division suffered decreases.

In sales, the environmental machinery section and all other divisions showed a decline.

Consequently, the amount of sales was 169.3 billion yen (1,602.2 million dollars), which marks a 37.5% increase on the figure of the previous term.

Concerning profits, in spite of factors such as a decrease in sales due to a drop-off in prices and certain increases brought about by a steep rise in raw material costs, the operating income resulted in 2.1 billion yen (20.1 million dollars), which is a decrease of 4.2% from the previous term. This was on account of our efforts to reduce fixed expenses and sales expenses through pay cutting and other schemes.

Meanwhile, there was a gain on the sale of long-held securities, and the overall net loss during the period under review was 11.8 billion yen (112 million dollars).

In January 2004, we made Kurimoto Construction Industry Ltd., our wholly owned subsidiary in order to improve our group’s all-round strength. We also merged our former wholly owned subsidiary, Kurimoto Construction Material, Ltd., in March 2004 with the aim of combining management resources and to promote streamlining.

In the matter of dividends at the end of the period under review, we settled upon the figure of 2,000 yen/18 dollars for 1,000 shares (annual dividend was 4,000 yen/37 dollars per 1,000 shares including the interim dividend), which remained the same as the previous term.

Even though there was a partial recovery, full-scale revival of the Japanese economy in the foreseeable future is still uncertain, as deflation seems to remain strong.

With respect to gaining a perspective on our business, competition will continue to become more severe due to a reduction in public works spending, with the overall business environment expected to become more difficult.

To deal with this situation, we will focus on the five key points, “environment, energy, overseas, lifestyle-oriented, and expansion of private-sector demand” and promote the following core measures with the purpose of bringing about the early recovery of our business.

As for the fields of “environment and energy,” we have established the Environmental Division with the aim of creating one organization that deals with matters related to both waste treatment and water treatment. Our mission in this area is: (1) to become an organization that offers environmental solutions to meet diversified client requirements, and (2) to expand business through the reconciliation of management resources between waste and water treatment areas by developing and commercializing new products and formulating a profit-making culture.

Regarding the “overseas” field, we will take early steps in a variety of businesses, including strengthening the functions of the Valve division concerning bases for overseas procurement and overseas production, mainly in China; a global market cultivation for those divisions related to machinery (press machines and powder system); and development of the European market for brake disks for railways.

With regard to the “lifestyle-oriented, and expansion of private-sector demand” fields, we made Kurimoto Construction Industry Ltd., a long time contributor to improvements in people’s living space, our wholly owned subsidiary. We will utilize the synergetic effect to expand our business and showcase the Kurimoto brand.

In addition, for the “expansion of private-sector demand,” we will make special efforts concerning environmental issues (nongovernmental-level recycling), one of our most important areas, and the early development of new business and new products in the field of industrial machinery. This could be achieved through M&A, alliances and technical collaborations.

In order to improve earnings, we feel the key to success is to focus strongly on added values. Within this in mind, we will set up an added-value management indicator, and strive to vigorously conduct activities in all departments and divisions. We will also try to establish a profit-making culture throughout the company, by improving on our financial position with schemes that would include the control of capital investment and a reduction in assets.

Finally, as part of our strategy to intensify our management system, we systemized a section for management planning in April, 2004. Its two core measures are:

“Operational renovation” - Aiming to realize “a headquarters that is small yet strong,” by the reinforcement of management operation functions.

“Structural business reform” - Formulating a basic strategy and a mid-term business strategy, that focus on selecting and concentrating on businesses and effecting their reorganization; policies in technological development and cultivation of business; and overseas business promotion.

Thank you for your continued support.

June 2004

Seizo Yokouchi
President
The severe situation has continued especially in both national and local public works. In the water market, which is the main market of this division, the number of small and large scale water lines has dropped dramatically. Under such conditions, we are making the expansion of outlets and stabilization of the number of the orders, two of our top business priorities.

Sales:
¥29.0 billion (5.3% decrease from the previous term)

Production:
Ductile iron pipes, specially shaped pipes, accessories, gas dehydration systems, wear-resistant pipes.

As for business concerning the environment, special procurement with regard to last year’s dioxin regulation has been settled for the time being. With regard to business concerning industrial machinery, the crushing machines section, the castings section and the special product section were spun off into separate companies. Due to this, the division’s amount of orders accepted has decreased. On the other hand, the amount in sales achieved a record-high level, as four facilities were completed (2 gas fusion furnaces and 2 waste carbonization plants) and the presses section showed outstanding performance overseas.

Sales: ¥19.8 billion (36.1% decrease from the previous term)

Production:
Crushing machines, grinding machines, sorting machines, mixing and blending machines, kneading machines, double-axle extruders, crushing plants, chemical plants, dust collectors, electrostatic precipitators, solvent recovery systems, bulky waste-crushing and processing facilities, municipal waste incinerator facilities, recycling plants, vertical-parking garage systems, vertical automated warehousing systems, forging presses, trimming presses, billet-shearing machines, forging rollers, NC and CNC bending rollers, automated conveying equipment, hydraulic presses, wear-resistant castings, heat-resistant and corrosion-resistant steel castings, precision castings, dredging pumps, sand pumps, slurry pumps, hard-faced built-up products, ceramics.
Valves

There was a reduction in the public works budget regarding water and sewage, which is the division's main field, and private capital investment activity was further restrained. In such a tough market environment, the division is striving to enhance competitiveness by creating demand in overseas markets and promoting overseas procurement.

Sales: ¥10.2 billion (7.2% decrease from the previous term)

Production:
Butterfly valves, sluice valves, check valves, air valves, fire hydrants, mobile weirs, Hakucho all-stainless-steel butterfly valves, Monotight valves, backwash valves, resow auto valves, water quality monitors, Sleeve valves, blast furnace valves.

Construction Materials

The market size has decreased remarkably, after the completion of some big building construction projects in the Tokyo Metropolitan Area. There has also been a decrease in the amount of construction generally and a decline in the ordering prices of apartment buildings. Under such difficult conditions, the division’s main focus is to improve competitiveness by thorough cost cutting and reinforcement of the outlet system for construction products.

Sales: ¥76.9 billion (508.6% increase from the previous term due to the building construction being included.)

Production:
Winding pipes, spiral ducts, oval ducts, flexible ducts, winding sheathing, stainless ducts, soundproofing products and building construction.

Plastic Products

We poured effort into agricultural aqueducts in a difficult market.

Sales: ¥8.4 billion (7.1% decrease from the previous term)

Production:
Reinforced plastic duplex tubes (electrical conduits, sewerage pipes, agricultural water pipes), composite sheet materials, FRP pipes, synthetic resin molded products.

Steel Structures

There was a reduction in the budget for public works, owing to the government’s structural reforms, and orders were withheld, because of the privatization of the four public highway corporations. Due to such reasons, the market size has shrunk significantly. Under these circumstances, the division is making great strides with accepting orders with locally based sales and technology proposals, and attempting to improve its competitiveness by streamlining production.

Sales: ¥20.8 billion (7.9% decrease from the previous term)

Operations:
Bridges, steel frames, water gates, aqueducts, penstocks, branch pipes, water circulation pipes, welded steel pipes, dust collectors.

Construction

Local governments received reduced aid budgets from the national or prefectural government, and some planned projects were carried over. In such a very severe environment for orders, the division is making strong efforts in the markets of its main fields, that are water and sewage, simple waterworks, and agricultural aqueduct construction.

Sales: ¥4.1 billion (33.0% decrease from the previous term)

Operations:
All types of public water projects (water pipelines, small water-supply systems, agricultural water pipes, sewerage pipes), rural sewage treatment facilities, propulsion systems, all types of project analysis, design, and construction.

Note 1. Significant Accounting Policies

Basis of Presenting Consolidated Financial Statements
Kurimoto, Ltd. (hereinafter referred to as “This Company”) and its consolidated subsidiaries have presented their official accounting records in the currency of yen and in accordance with the Commercial Code and the regulations of Securities & Exchange Law, and in conformity with the generally accepted accounting principles & practices of Japan (hereinafter called “Japan Accounting Standard”).

Some part of the Japan Accounting Standard, in its method of application and disclosure requirements, is different from the International Accounting Standard and some other countries’ accounting standards. Accordingly, the consolidated financial statements attached hereto are prepared for readers who are well acquainted with the Japan Accounting Standard.

The consolidated financial statements attached hereto have been prepared in accordance with the Japan Accounting Standard pursuant to the Securities & Exchange Law. Such consolidated financial statements of This Company as were submitted to our district’s Local Finance Bureau of the Ministry of Finance have been re-edited and translated into English.

Consolidation Policies
These consolidated financial statements include the accounting records of This Company and the companies over which This Company either holds majority voting power or for which certain other conditions verify This Company’s control over them. The investment account of This Company in non-consolidated subsidiaries or affiliates which are largely influenced by This Company in their operational and financial policies have been computed on the basis of equity-method investment balance.

The important credit & liability, trade, and unrealized profit between and among consolidated companies have been obliterated on a consolidation basis.

Translation of Foreign Currencies
Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies have been translated into Japanese yen at the rate as of the date of each balance sheet presentation, and their resulting conversion profit or loss has been appropriated as their profit or loss in the current business term.

A Range of Fund in a Statement of Consolidated Cash Flow
A fund in a statement of consolidated cash flow (cash and its equivalent) consists of cash in hand, ordinary deposits, and short-term investments which have a term of redemption under three months, carry low risk for value fluctuation and can be withdrawn easily.

Marketable and Investment Securities
This Company & its consolidated subsidiaries have specified the purposes of their respective securities holdings, and classified those securities into securities for buying & selling, stocks of their affiliates, and other securities.

Securities for buying & selling have been evaluated at market value.

The stocks of their affiliates have been evaluated at book value.

Those other securities that have market value have been evaluated at market value, and the unrealized profit or loss has been reported as an independent item in Part of Capital after taxation.

Those other securities that do not have market value have been evaluated at book value.

For the cases in which the value of those other securities with market value fell sharply, the relevant securities have been placed in the balance sheet according to their market value, and the difference between the book value and the market value has been recognized as a loss for the business term. For the cases in which the virtual value of those other securities without market value fell markedly, the relevant securities have been depreciated down to the virtual value, and the corresponding difference has been recognized as a loss.

Profit or loss in selling securities has been calculated based upon the selling price by the moving average method, and included in profit or loss.

Inventories
Inventories are principally stated at the cost determined by the average method or the specific cost method.

Fixed assets
Fixed assets are indicated by book value. Method of depreciation is mainly the straight line method by estimated useful life. Main estimated useful lives are as follows.

Building and construction; 2 to 60 years.
Machinery and automotive equipment; 2 to 17 years.

The cost of repair or small amount reformation is charged in book at their occurrences, but any large scale repair or reformation is classified as assets. At this business term (and henceforth), we have changed the method of depreciation of tangible fixed assets from the declining balance method to the straight line method.

Retirement Benefits
In order to prepare for the employees’ retirement benefits, This Company & its consolidated subsidiaries have reserved retirement pay allowances as of the end of March 2004, based upon prospective retirement pay obligations and annuity assets at the term end of the consolidated accounting.
The difference in numerical computation has been dealt with as expenses by the amount divided by a straight line method for certain years (mainly ten years) within the employees’ average remaining work years upon its accrual in each consolidated accounting year, with each handled from the consolidated accounting term next to the accrual.

Leases
In Japan finance leases other than those that are deemed to transfer the ownership of the leased assets to lessees are accounted for by a method similar to that applicable to ordinary operation leases.

Research and Development and Computer Software
Research & development expenses have been dealt with as expenses upon their accrual. Software expenses have been included mainly in long-term prepaid expenses and other expenses, and depreciated by a straight line method chiefly for five-year service life.

Income Taxes
As to the temporary difference in the book value of assets and liabilities for the purpose of financial accounting and taxation, the net worth method has been used to figure deferred tax assets and liabilities.

Per Share Information
The computation of basic net income per share is based on the weighted average number of shares of common stock outstanding during each period. The average number of shares used in the computation was 127,981 thousand and 132,725 thousand for the years ended March 31, 2004 and 2003, respectively.

Recognition of earning cost
We recognize our revenue from construction works by the complete job method. But in case that the contract sum surpasses 0.5 billion yen and the construction term is over one year, we adopt the percentage of completion method. At this term (and henceforth), we have changed our standards to apply the percentage of completion method.

The amounts of acquisition costs and future minimum lease payments under finance leases include the imputed interest expense portion.

Depreciation expenses which are not reflected in the accompanying consolidated statement of income, computed by the straight-line method, were ¥148 million ($1,406 thousand) for the year ended March 31, 2004.

Note 8. Derivatives and Hedging Activities

Some consolidated subsidiaries utilize derivatives of forward exchange contract and interest-rate swap in order to hedge exchange-rate fluctuation risk concerning foreign currency assets and liabilities and hedge against interest-rate fluctuation risk regarding securities and debts. As they trade these with major financial institutions, we assume that the credit risks of these derivatives are low. The Accounting Department implements and controls these forward exchange contracts for our own company by way of in-house consultation and decision. As to the derivative trades by our consolidated subsidiaries, their Business Management Department or General Affairs Department implement and control them after their internal consultation and decision and also notification to our company.

Note 9. Research and Development Expenses

Research and development expenditures charged to income were ¥1,671 million ($15,818 thousand) for the year ended March 31, 2004.

Note 10. Income Taxes

The Company and its domestic subsidiaries are subject to several taxes based on income, which in the aggregate resulted in statutory tax rates of approximately 41.0% and 41.0% for the year ended March 31, 2004 and 2003, respectively.

The effective rates of income taxes reflected in the consolidated statements of income differed from the statutory tax rates referred to above for the year ended March 31, 2004 due principally to expenses not deductible for income tax purposes, and temporary differences between the tax basis of assets and liabilities and their reported amounts in the financial statements.

The difference between the burden rate of corporate tax after application of tax effect accounting and the statutory tax rate is not listed as it was recorded as a net loss for the period under review before adjustments for taxes, etc.

The tax effects of temporary differences that give rise to significant portions of the deferred tax assets as of March 31, 2004 and 2003 are presented below:

To the Board of Directors of Kurimoto, Ltd.

We have audited the accompanying consolidated balance sheets of Kurimoto, Ltd. and consolidated subsidiaries, as of March 31, 2004 and 2003, and the related consolidated statements of income, shareholders’ equity, and cash flows for the years then ended, all expressed in Japanese yen. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company’s management. Our responsibility is to independently express an opinion on these financial statements based on our auditors.

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards, procedures and practices generally accepted and applied in Japan. Those standards, procedures and practices require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

We have audited the consolidated financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Kurimoto, Ltd. and consolidated subsidiaries as of March 31, 2004 and 2003, and the results of their operations and their cash flows for the years then ended, in conformity with accounting principles and practices generally accepted in Japan.

As explained in Note 1, the Company has changed the method of depreciation of tangible fixed assets and the standards to apply the percentage of completion method.
